NEIGHBORHOOD READINESS

As neighbors we can help to ensure we are all prepared for the next emergency. Encourage each other to be prepared, know which neighbors might need support preparing for or during an evacuation.

Review the Citizens Organized to Prepare for Emergencies (COPE) Program site, www.srcity.org/461/Citizens-Organized-to-Prepare-for-Emerge, to learn more about how neighbors can connect and help each other prepare for an emergency. Link to program is in the back of this pamphlet.

About COPE

Citizens Organized to Prepare for Emergencies (COPE), was started by residents of the Santa Rose Community of Oakmont, in cooperation with the Santa Rosa Fire Department and the American Red Cross.

COPE focuses on:

- Getting To Know Your Neighbors
- Making an Emergency Plan
- Preparing an Emergency Kit
- Being Informed and Involved

Contact the COPE Program at:
cope@srcity.org OR 707-543-3527

Create a neighbor contact list/print copies/store list in the cloud/ add copy to go bag and car(s).
Sample contact list included.

If an evacuation/emergency occurs, do the right thing, when exiting your home, go to the neighbor to your right, see if they need assistance. Together we can help each other.
(individual safety being priority)

- Map out evacuation routes
- Identify an out-of-town friend or relative as your "emergency family check-in contact" for everyone to call if the family gets separated. Make sure all family members have the correct phone numbers. It is often easier to call out-of-town during an emergency than within the affected area
